Westin, please consider the following:

IN THE CLAIMS:

Please replace claims 1-19 as follows :

1. (Amended) A [projection-type display apparatus] projector comprising:
a light source that emits a light beam;
a modulator having an image forming area, the modulator receives the light beam emitted by the light source and outputs a modulated light beam;
a projection lens that projects the light beam modulated by the modulator; an optical element, disposed in an optical path between the light source and the modulator, the optical element splits the light beam into a plurality of intermediate light beams; and
